Midweek skiing: by Gary Schorr

The ski season is only weeks away. It's time to get our skis waxed and edged, perhaps have our bindings adjusted, and start thinking snow. In the past few years we've been able to get on the snow by the second week of December. If you're not on my midweek ski list please write to me to ask to be included. We car pool from Christopher Morley Park and go to an area that has good snow cover.

Note: The Windham Peak Express card is available for $45. It gives ski club members a $30 discount non holiday weekdays and $15 discount weekends and holidays. If you purchase before 11/30 it includes a free anytime non holiday lift ticket. Click on the groups and weddings tab on the home page and scroll down to the ski clubs link.

Midweek biking: by Neal Pisanti.

We had some interesting rides along with some routine rides in September. Unfortunately, I missed two of the more interesting rides and can only relay information I was given. There were two rides on September 5. Lou Sabatini led a ride from Greenport through Shelter Island. I was told that Lou took a spill and hurt a finger, but I saw him at the September meeting and he seems fine. A smaller group of us, who couldn't spend the whole day took a short ride from Cedar Creek Park.

Due to unsettled weather, the following week had no ride planned, but a last minute opportunity allowed an unplanned ride to take place. It was spur of the moment, but we had nine riders. There was a minor delay due to a flat tire, but a team effort got the tire fixed and we were on the road after a very short time.

The last week of September included two rides. A large group rode various trails in Cape Cod. Unfortunately, I couldn't go and can only say that the pictures posted on facebook lead me to think that I missed a fun week. On the other hand, those of us who couldn't go to the Cape consoled ourselves with a ride from Pellegrini winery that included segments from Peconic Bay to Long Island Sound and ended with lunch and chardonnay.
